Chapter 1

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Chapter 2

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

Chapter 3

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Chapter 4

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

Chapter 5

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Chapter 6

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

Chapter 7

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Chapter 8

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

Chapter 9

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Chapter 10

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

Chapter 11

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Chapter 12

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

Chapter 13

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Chapter 14

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

Chapter 15

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Chapter 16

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

Chapter 17

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Chapter 18

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

Chapter 19

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Chapter 20

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

Chapter 21

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Chapter 22

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

Chapter 23

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Chapter 24

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

Chapter 25

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Chapter 26

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

Chapter 27

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Chapter 28

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

Chapter 29

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Chapter 30

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

Chapter 31

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Chapter 32

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

Chapter 33

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Chapter 34

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

Chapter 35

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Chapter 36

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

Chapter 37

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Chapter 38

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

Chapter 39

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Chapter 40

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

Chapter 41

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Chapter 42

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

Chapter 43

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Chapter 44

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

Chapter 45

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Chapter 46

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

Chapter 47

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Chapter 48

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

Chapter 49

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Chapter 50

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

Chapter 51

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Chapter 52

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

Chapter 53

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Chapter 54

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

Chapter 55

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Chapter 56

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

Chapter 57

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Chapter 58

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

Chapter 59

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Chapter 60

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

Chapter 61

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Chapter 62

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

Chapter 63

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Chapter 64

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

Chapter 65

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Chapter 66

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

Chapter 67

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Chapter 68

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

Chapter 69

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Chapter 70

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

Chapter 71

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Chapter 72

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

Chapter 73

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Chapter 74

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

Chapter 75

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Chapter 76

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

Chapter 77

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Chapter 78

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

Chapter 79

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Chapter 80

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

Chapter 81

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Chapter 82

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

Chapter 83

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Chapter 84

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

Chapter 85

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Chapter 86

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

Chapter 87

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Chapter 88

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

Chapter 89

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Chapter 90

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

Chapter 91

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Chapter 92

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

Chapter 93

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Chapter 94

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

Chapter 95

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Chapter 96

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

Chapter 97

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Chapter 98

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

Chapter 99

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Chapter 100

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.

The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing.

Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting. The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows.

The committee met on Tuesday to review the plan for the new library wing. Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years.

Members agreed that the reading room should face the garden and keep its tall windows. A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring.

A first estimate puts the cost at a little under two million, spread over three years. Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner.

Volunteers will catalogue the donated books before the move begins in spring. The children’s section gets its own entrance, with low shelves and a quiet corner. Questions about the schedule can be sent to the office at any time before the next meeting.